QUALITY INN AND SUITES ANNOUNCES “COMMUNITY CABINET” DISPLAY

In a continued effort to support sustainable tourism by helping to promote locally produced items, the Quality Inn and Suites, Sequim, has set aside an area of their lobby where local products, art, crafts, books, and other merchandise will be prominently displayed. Owner Bret Wirta and CEO of Wirta Hospitality Worldwide said the large, glass, “Community Cabinet” will help to link local farmers, artists, writers and craftspeople with the visitors to our hotel. The display will be changed regularly. One organization at a time may use the space and it is free. Wirta said, “This space will function as advertisement for our agricultural, arts and business community. We won’t sell the items on display, but our hotel staff will be trained to answer questions on where visitors can go to purchase the items. We believe the Community Cabinet will continue with our goal of making our hotel a better neighbor in Sequim.” Those interested in displaying may contact Damian Humphreys, Sales and Marketing Manager at damain@sqis.net or call him at the Quality Inn and Suites at 360-683-2800.
